

CENTRAL BANK OF NIGERIA

PRESS RELEASE

DISCLAIMER ON ONLINE FEE-BASED RECRUITMENT

The Central Bank of Nigeria, (CBN) has noted with concern, the activities of some unscrupulous individuals posting some letters on the internet inviting prospective applicants to fill CBN employment forms online at a fee.

The general public should please note that there is no recruitment exercise taking place at the moment and should there be such exercise, it will be advertised in the media and the Bank's official website for the information of the general public. Further more, CBN recruitment exercises do not come with the precondition requesting prospective applicants to pay any fee before such applications are processed.

The general public is hereby cautioned to be wary of such misleading and dubious publications, certainly, originating from faceless individuals or groups with the sole intention of extorting money from the gullible applicants.

Meanwhile, the Bank is liaising with the relevant security agencies to track down those behind such despicable acts with the intent to defraud unsuspecting members of the public.

The general public and especially those who may want to subscribe to the ploy, should be guided accordingly.

Signed:

M. M. Abdullahi
Head, Corporate Communications
November 29, 2010